

Everence volunteer financial coaching

You're invited to learn more!

Help others move forward with confidence

Our new financial coaching ministry is for congregations wanting to take the next step to help people deal with budget, debt and savings habits. Becoming a congregation that provides financial coaching is about identifying people with a passion to walk with and help others with their finances.

Everence[®] coaching resources include:

- A flier describing how a coach can help anyone feeling weighed down by money worries.
- A handout explaining the importance of emergency savings.
- A financial wellness assessment.
- A financial coaching training manual.
- A balanced money workbook to help participants allocate their resources among must-haves, wants and savings in a healthy and sustainable way.

Come and learn more!

Pastors are invited, along with one or two others from your congregation, to attend an informational workshop to learn more about the Everence volunteer financial coaching program.

Date: Saturday, October 7, 2017

Time: 9:00am – 3:00pm

Place: Bethany Theological Seminary
615 National Road, West
Richmond, IN 47374

The workshop is free, and lunch will be provided! To reserve your spot, contact Tara Hornbacker at hornbta@bethanyseminary.edu by September 29.
