PROGRAM OVERVIEW

EDUCATION for a SHARED MINISTRY (EFSM)

A Program of the Brethren Academy for Ministerial Leadership

THE CONGREGATIONS

Church of the Brethren congregations come in many different sizes, structures and styles of worship. The members of those congregations come each with their own personal stories and expressions of faith. As Brethren, we share a common commitment to “the priesthood of all believers”. Yet, no two of us are called in just the same way and for just the same purpose. God moves among us, individually and uniquely, even as God draws us together in one body of faith.

For this reason, the Church of the Brethren provides a variety of ways to train for ministry, both as clergy and as lay leadership. From free ministry to graduate degrees, there is a wide range of opportunities within our denomination. Regardless of a person’s stage in life, educational background, current employment or congregational affiliation, there is an educational path open to them.

EFSM is for small congregations that lack the financial resources to call a full-time, seminary-trained pastor. Some of these congregations face additional challenges such as geographic isolation or language barriers. In order to thrive, these families of faith need support and their leaders need accessible training.

EFSM is for large congregations with lay leaders serving in specialized areas, like music, visitation or Christian education. Often these leaders have talent and heart, but lack formal education in ministry.

EFSM is for congregations exploring the option of “team ministry”, calling out several members to serve together to meet the needs of the congregation. These are teams of enthusiastic, gifted people who need training to help them work together effectively for the sake of the whole church.

EFSM is for congregations, both English-speaking and Spanish-speaking, who seek to train ministers and grow together in ways that deepen their Biblical understanding, invite them into theological reflection and develop their skills for shared ministry.

EFSM is for Christ and for the Church, just one of the many ministry training programs of The Church of the Brethren and Bethany Theological Seminary.

THE PROGRAM

Education for a Shared Ministry (EFSM) is a ministry training program designed to address challenges and celebrate the strengths of both small churches and specialized ministries. By providing training within the local congregation, both churches and their leadership develop new vision and purpose.

The objectives of the program are as follows:

- To provide churches with a model that affirms the congregation as an effective base for training in ministry, through the education of its pastor and the equipping of its lay leaders
- To enable small churches to engage in redefining and living out their mission with greater sense of vitality, purpose and connection
- To equip persons in specialized ministries with a solid grounding in biblical, theological and historical studies, while tailoring a ministry skills program which addresses their specific calling and enhances their knowledge of other aspects of ministry.
- To train ministry teams by developing ministry skills, increasing biblical knowledge and theological reflection, and exploring the challenges and opportunities of functioning as a team

SPONSORSHIP

EFSM is sponsored jointly by the Church of the Brethren and Bethany Theological Seminary through the Brethren Academy for Ministerial Leadership and the 24 districts. Representatives from these agencies meet as a denominational Ministry Advisory Council (MAC) to set policy for several special training programs, including EFSM. In addition, district executives carry significant responsibilities in implementing the program in their areas.

The original funding for EFSM as a pilot program came from a generous grant by Lilly Endowment Inc. Currently, major funding for EFSM comes from the Church of the Brethren and from Bethany Theological Seminary. Districts also contribute an annual portion of the EFSM budget, determined by the number of churches participating in the program. All of the sponsoring agencies contribute services for EFSM.

The amount that each EFSM congregation contributes toward program costs include a $360.00 entrance fee per Minister-in-Training (MIT), and an annual congregation participation fee of $230.00 for congregations with 1-3 Minister(s)-in-Training; $340 for congregations with 4-6 Ministers-in-Training. Annual participation fees are billed in January. In addition, the sponsoring district contributes an annual fee of $230.00 for each congregation.

Each EFSM congregation is eligible for two $850.00 subsidies over the course of their studies which may be used toward attendance at outside, required events.

To implement the program, the Church of the Brethren and Bethany Theological Seminary jointly support the Brethren Academy for Ministerial Leadership which has an office at Bethany and coordinates non-degree ministry training on a denomination-wide basis. The appropriate Brethren Academy staff work in close conjunction with the supervisor for an EFSM congregation.

THE PLAN

The plan mobilizes the resources of congregations for ministry. It features educational experiences for a Minister-in-Training or Ministers-in-Training, five (5) assisting laypersons, and the whole congregation. (See “The Congregations”)

The election of a person or persons to be the Minister(s)-in-Training (MIT) will follow historical patterns within the Church of the Brethren (i.e., cooperative participation involving the related district and the local congregation). Qualifications for election as MIT include:

- Demonstrated Christian discipleship.
- Maturity and demonstrated leadership, or exceptional potential for ministry.
- Willingness to serve the congregation issuing the call and live within the community.
- A sense of personal calling.
- Eagerness to participate in the program of study.
- Agreement with the concept of a self-supported ministry.

The plan includes a Congregational Training Group which will meet once a month and will be composed of the following persons:

- The Minister(s)-in-Training (MIT) called by the congregation.
- The additional five (5) Laity-in-Training (LIT) from the congregation who will share central and basic ministerial functions with the MIT.
- A nearby pastor who has a seminary degree and who is willing to work in the role as Supervising Pastor with the MIT. Such a pastor may be from the Church of the Brethren or from another denomination.
- A District Representative between congregation and district (appointed by district).

One purpose of the Congregational Training Group (CTG) is to help design and evaluate the educational experience. Specifically, the CTG is to develop, with the MIT, the learning units located within the congregation. They shall be designed to include congregational participation, feedback and evaluation. The group is also to provide counsel and approval for any learning units outside the local congregation. Further, the training group will provide a forum for study units of lay leaders.

A second purpose of the CTG is to plan, coordinate and review the shared ministry of the minister(s) and lay leaders. Coordination of study and ministry will be sought at all times.

THE EDUCATIONAL PROGRAM FOR THE MINISTER(S)-IN-TRAINING

The program of training for the MIT consists of eight (8) learning units and six (6) experiences, equivalent to 36 semester hours of college-level work. The program is anticipated to be completed in three to five years. Each learning unit and experience must be approved both by the Congregational Training Group and by the appropriate Brethren Academy staff. A break-down of the learning units and experiences are as follows:

Learning Units (8) are independent studies most of which are carried out within the local congregation. Each of these units will include reading, research, journal writing, and related congregational projects and experiences. One to three of these units are to be completed by taking a BAML course.

Bible and Theology (4 units)

1. Old Testament Survey
2. New Testament Survey
3. Basic Brethren Beliefs
4. Christian Church History

Ministerial Skills (4 units)

5. Administration/Leadership
6. Pastoral Care
7. Preaching and Worship
8. Teaching and Learning in the Church

Experiences (6)

1. Orientation: includes completing Intro to Biblical Studies and a Ministry Skills course (topics vary)
2. Congregational Workshop Weekend
3. Bethany Weekend (to be completed at the mid-point of the program)
4. Annual Conference
5. District Conference
6. Ecumenical, Intercultural, Interfaith

THE EDUCATIONAL PROGRAM FOR THE LOCAL CONGREGATION

The educational program for the local church focuses on congregational awareness, redefining of mission, and training for a shared ministry with a part-time self-employed pastor.

The congregation must agree to the following:

In the area of congregational awareness:

- A required orientation session during the Congregational Workshop Weekend explaining the program and inviting participation.

- A follow-up decision-making meeting in which the congregation by majority vote agrees to support the program
- Participation in a process of self-study and goal setting.

In the area of redefining or integration of current mission:

- Development of and commitment to annual goals and objectives growing out of the goal-setting process.
- An adjustment of previous programs and services which will show movement toward these new goals.
- Conducting regular worship services and church school at least once every two weeks.
- Participation in District and Annual Conference of the Church of the Brethren with appropriate delegate representation.

In the area of training for a shared ministry:

- Election of a person to be the Minister(s)-in-Training.
- The election of five (5) lay persons to assume specific ministry functions and to be in training for those functions during the three years, meeting as needed to achieve these ends.
- Participation in a two-day congregational workshop on the church and its ministry at the beginning of the program.
- Participation in the Bethany Weekend learning unit.
- Participation by the elected lay persons in at least two training events outside of the congregation over the three-year period.
- Congregational meetings each year to receive the annual report of the Congregational Training Group and participate in an evaluation experience, and to give basic approval to the CTG's plans for the next year's training focus.

EXTENDING THE PROGRAM

As noted above, the EFSM program is usually completed within three years. Occasionally, circumstances make it necessary to extend the program for a fourth year. When a Congregational Training Group determines that a fourth year is needed to complete the program, it will bring a proposal to that effect to the congregation. If the congregation supports the proposal, which includes a fourth year of congregational budget support, the CTG will bring the proposal to the district. If the district approves the proposal, which includes a fourth year of district budget support, the CTG will then work with ministry training staff in negotiating the details of the extended program.

ANTICIPATED RESULTS

Upon successful completion of the EFSM program, the MIT will have fulfilled the educational requirements needed for commissioned ministry.

The Minister(s)-in-Training will demonstrate:

- Basic knowledge in the areas of Old Testament, New Testament, Brethren beliefs and Christian church history.
- Basic performance abilities in pastoral care, teaching, preaching and administration.
- The ability to work with congregational leadership to design and carry out a significant shared ministry.
- The capability of earning full financial support within available community options.

For the local congregation we anticipate:

- A new sense of self-understanding as a congregation.
- A more intentionally lived out mission and program.
- A core of at least five (5) lay persons within the congregation, trained and willing to assume regular responsibilities for shared ministry.
- A clearer self-concept as a congregation.
- A deeper sense of belonging to the larger church.

For the denomination we anticipate:

- A more adequate relationship with small-membership churches.
- Appropriately trained ministers serving churches.

COVENANT OF CONGREGATIONAL PARTICIPATION

Education for a Shared Ministry

(To be completed by the participating congregation and returned to the District Executive, who will review it and submit it to BAML)

We the members of the _____ congregation of the Church of the Brethren, believe that God has a purpose for our life together. We affirm our desire to explore more deeply our calling as the people of God, the body of Christ, and the fellowship of the Holy Spirit. As a way of equipping ourselves to carry out more fully and more effectively the ministry God gives us, we commit ourselves to faithful participation in the program Education For a Shared Ministry.

- We have called _____ to be a Minister-in-Training, and he/she has accepted the call. We will seek to undergird his/her ministry, training, and family with the love that binds us together in Christ, and with a readiness to respond with our own lives to new opportunities for discipleship.

---OR---

- We have called _____, _____, _____, _____, _____ to be Minister(s)-in-Training and they have accepted the call. We will seek to undergird their ministry, training, and families with the love that binds us together in Christ, and with a readiness to respond with our own lives to new opportunities to discipleship.
- We have called the following persons as Laypersons-in-Training who will share the work of ministry with the MIT(s), who have accepted this calling, and whom we also will support with our Christian love and commitment:

- We commit ourselves to a process of defining specific goals and objectives for our congregational life through use of the planning process recommended to us and to act upon those goals and objectives.

- We commit ourselves to take advantage of the training opportunities EFSM provides for the congregation as a whole, including participation in a weekend workshop launching the program, annual congregational evaluation meetings, and the Bethany Weekend Workshop.
- We affirm that our congregation is part of a larger family of churches. As a way of growing in that larger relationship, we commit ourselves to sending delegates to Annual Conference and District Conference and to helping underwrite their expenses.
- We will contribute to the EFSM budget a congregational entrance fee of $360.00/Minister-in-Training to be submitted along with this covenant (unless the district pays this entrance fee), and an annual congregation participation fee (currently $230.00 for 1-3 Minister(s)-in-Training; $340.00 for 4-6 Ministers-in-Training) for each year of participation. Although this is only a small part of the total expenses of the program, it will symbolize our commitment to growth and renewal and to supporting the training of ministers within the Church of the Brethren.
- We will seek at all times to maintain open channels of communication with all persons related to the program. If tensions and differences arise, we will endeavor to confront and resolve them in a caring manner in the Spirit of Christ.

We have made our decision to enter Education For a Shared Ministry in the light of this covenant and have approved that decision by a significant majority of members present at a congregational business meeting on

DEVELOPING A SHARED MINISTRY

Why a “Shared” Ministry?

- Shared ministry is biblically rooted. In 1 Corinthians 12 and Ephesians 4, there is a clear statement of the bestowal of gifts for ministry on all persons in any given congregation.
- Shared ministry is a practical necessity in churches with part-time pastors. If the part-time pastors attempt to carry the entire ministry, either they will be overburdened, or the ministry will be a very limited one.
- Shared ministry allows gifts to be developed that might otherwise lie dormant. As the MIT and LITs work together, all grow together and help to release each other’s gifts and skills.
- Shared ministry provides a support team for those who minister. Instead of facing the challenges and crises of ministry alone, those who minister have colleagues for support and evaluation.
- Shared ministry involves both Minister(s)-in-Training and Congregational Training Group in a process of discernment with the entire congregation, identifying goals and objectives that carry out the vision that God has given to their congregation. Learning units, while focused on the EFSM participants’ required areas of study, can be shaped in such a way that they support and enhance this process of discernment.
- Shared ministry equips a congregation for the future. If at some time in the future the pastor should move elsewhere, the church has a trained group of leaders to carry on its life and program.

What Ministry Do We Share?

The concept of the priesthood of believers, treasured by Brethren since their founding in Germany, is the basis for the concept of shared ministry. The writer of 1 Peter exhorts the early church, “But you are a chosen race, a royal priesthood, a holy nation, God’s own people, in order that you may proclaim the mighty acts of him who called you out of darkness into his marvelous light. Once you were not a people, but now you are God’s people; once you had not received mercy, but now you have received mercy.” (1 Pet. 2:9-10).

Additionally, the apostle Paul taught the Galatians that through their baptism, all were clothed with Christ and formed into a fellowship where ethnic, class, and gender divisiveness is transformed into unity in Christ Jesus. (Gal. 3:27-28). In this light, our baptism is the catalyst that leads to our ordination to ministry as baptized believers in Christ.

All followers of Christ receive this new calling of discipleship through baptismal waters and begin the journey of faith, service, and witness in Christ's name. Brethren believe that all followers of Jesus are empowered by their baptism to use their God-given gifts in service within the church, in the community, and in the world.

Healthy congregations, then, build on that initial baptismal experience by undertaking the work of discerning the gifts of the members and encouraging them to use those gifts in ministries that edify the body of Christ and serve the wider community. These gifts, in which believers carry out the priesthood of all believers, are outlined in key scriptures in the New Testament such as 1 Corinthians 12, Romans 12, and Ephesians 4.

As the early church carried out this ministry, so Brethren congregations also do so in a variety of ways.

For example,

- the gift of administration is expressed as members lead ministry teams, organize outreach projects in the community, serve as moderators or treasurers of the congregation, etc.
- Those with gifts of teaching lead church school classes, discipleship groups, Bible study groups, Vacation Bible School, etc
- Those with gifts of compassion serve as deacons, welcome refugee families, visit the sick and imprisoned, comfort the grieving, stand in solidarity with those abused or bullied, offer respite care for caregivers of the elderly, etc.
- Those with gifts of prophetic speech express a hunger for God's justice and peace in ways that witness to Christ's saving love within the church and in the world.
- Those with gifts of helping lead the congregation in disaster relief ministries, serve in shelters or soup kitchens, provide rides to appointments, clean the kitchen after carry-in meals, etc.

The list of gifts is more extensive than this small beginning and each congregation calls out and affirms the gifts of its members in unique ways. Together, persons joyfully using their spiritual gifts carry out the Apostle Peter's call to be a royal priesthood, "proclaiming the mighty acts of the One who called you out of darkness into his marvelous light."

How Do We Develop a Shared Ministry?

1. The process begins when the church calls five Laypersons-in-Training (LIT) to serve and train together with the Minister(s)-in-Training (MIT). The LITs should be individuals who exhibit interest and willingness to learn with and support the MIT through reading, study, and conversation. This action confirms the church's commitment to a shared ministry and lays the foundations for everything to follow.

Ideally, those chosen to serve will:

- Be committed to growth and to serving the church.
- Represent a good cross-section of the congregation: young and old, male and female, diverse gifts, etc.

- Include some new potential leaders as well as trusted established members.
2. Determine how the MIT and LITs will relate to the existing structure of the church. This conversation can take place at any point at the beginning of the process, but will be considered more fully at Orientation at Bethany (for the MIT) and at the Congregational Workshop Weekend (with the CTG). This structure must be confirmed by the church board/council/leadership team. (See appendix for suggested congregational patterns of organization)
 3. Month by month, the meetings of the CTG will provide an occasion for reviewing the shared ministry of MIT and LITs and for making adjustments as needed.
 4. Ultimately, the goal of EFSM is to help a congregation plan for their life together, beyond the EFSM program.
 - a. What is the scope of the congregations' calling to ministry? To whom, for whom and to what purpose are they called to serve in their unique setting? The MIT and the LITs will help lead the congregation through this conversation.
 - b. Together, the MIT and LITs will work to define their roles in responding to this calling. They may seek guidance from their supervising pastor, their district and their congregation.

CONGREGATIONAL TRAINING GROUP: Small Congregation Track

Responsibilities and Procedures

The training process in EFSM is lodged with a group called the Congregational Training Group (CTG). This group meets monthly to plan, review, and approve training events. EFSM will succeed as a training program to the extent that each CTG member participates regularly and actively in the group's meetings.

Members of the CTG

- Minister-in-Training (MIT)
- All five Laypersons-in-Training (LITs)
- Supervisor (well-trained and experienced pastor from a nearby congregation)
- District representative (usually a member of the district board or district ministry commission). Note: the district executive is not a member of the CTG but is welcome to sit in on CTG sessions when he or she is available.

Responsibilities of the CTG

1. Monitor overall training schedule of Minister-in-Training (MIT), adapt as needed. (Major changes should be cleared with the BAML Staff.) Review his or her workload and resources and recommend corrective action as needed.
2. Oversee the design of learning units and also supervise the Minister-in-Training, reviewing his or her progress, evaluating the MITs performance and certifying that the MIT has fulfilled the objectives of the learning unit.
3. Discuss LIT study units in relation to MIT learning units. The CTG meeting provides a forum for sharing and discussion.
4. Plan, coordinate, and review the shared ministry of MIT and LITs in the congregation, making sure the shared ministry concept becomes a reality.
5. Provide a support group for the MIT and LITs. The CTG meets not only to share ideas but to undergird one another in a caring relationship. CTG sessions should be times when both the MIT and LITs can share joys and concerns of congregational ministry.
6. Shepherd the MIT through the vocational discernment process.
7. Allocate subsidies for training events. Two subsidies are available through the duration of the program to assist the MIT and LITs to attend special training events. The CTG decides who gets how much each person gets and where they can use the funds.
8. Report on the training program at a congregational business meeting at least annually.

9. A second type of training may or may not need to be incorporated into the program. As already noted, EFSM assumes a part-time, self-supporting pastoral ministry. In most cases, the Minister-in-Training is already qualified and/or experienced to earn family support, and is willing to do so within the community. In other cases, the MIT may need the support and counsel of the Congregational Training Group in pursuing a vocation compatible with his/her ministry. See 7-D for resources of assessment

CTG Procedures

1. The first meeting of the CTG generally takes place during the Congregational Workshop Weekend
2. Meetings should be scheduled once a month thereafter.
3. Establish a regular meeting time, consulting with each CTG member individually to find a mutually agreed upon meeting time.
4. The MIT and the Supervisor work together to prepare the agenda for a CTG meeting and find a place to meet.
5. The Supervisor will convene or chair the CTG meetings during the first twelve months. The MIT will convene meetings after the first year.
6. The Supervisor will share what happens in CTG meetings in his or her bi-annual reports to the BAML Staff.
7. The CTG may meet wherever the members deem it most convenient.
8. The average time needed for a CTG meeting is 1½ to 2 hours. Each group's experience may vary.
9. If helpful, ask a member of the CTG to be a recorder to make meeting notes.
10. Report periodically to the congregation, perhaps during a congregational business meeting.
11. Consult with individuals or groups in the congregation when making decisions that will affect others.

SAMPLE CTG AGENDA

Supervising pastors will lead the first year of CTG meetings. In subsequent years the MIT will take leadership of these meetings.

I. Opening

Begin with devotions, prayer, and personal sharing, perhaps with a lead-in question such as, How are you feeling about the church and its ministries? Responsibility for opening the meeting can be rotated among the group members.

II. Support for MIT

Offer an opportunity to clarify, affirm, comfort, be present with, or listen to the MIT regarding any situation appropriately needing support from the CTG.

III. Current Unit

- A. How is the MIT progressing with learning experiences to meet objectives?
- B. How are LITs who are completing this unit progressing?
- C. What is the involvement of the congregation in this unit?
- D. Are all necessary resources available and/or in hand?
- E. Are there any special factors or problems that need to be considered?
- F. Take time to discuss or hear a report or be otherwise involved with the MIT's current unit.

IV. Next Unit(s)

- A. MIT discusses possibilities for an upcoming learning unit, or the MIT presents the first draft of a potential learning unit (see document "Training in Ministry for the Minister-in-Training)
- B. CTG offers suggestions, comments or recommendations for MIT's proposal regarding a learning unit, or CTG approves the contract. (Are the objectives appropriate? Are they beneficial to the congregation? Are they realistic? Are they interesting and varied? Are they clear and measurable?)

V. Congregational Involvement

Keep the entire congregation in mind while being involved in the EFSM process. Consider matters such as the following:

- A. How will the CTG report to the congregation?
- B. Who will report?
- C. How might the congregation give evaluation or feedback?
- D. How can folks in the congregation be affirmed for what they are doing?
- E. Is ministry truly being shared among all members?

VI. Special Matters

- A. Is there any correspondence from the Brethren Academy that needs attention?

- B. Are there decisions to be made regarding a request for the EFSM subsidy, such as who will attend which events?
- C. Do any changes need to be made in the three-year proposed schedule?
- E. Is there any planning necessary for upcoming events, such as a Bethany Weekend or an evaluation meeting?

VII. Confirm the Next Meeting Time and Place

It's best to schedule a regular meeting time and place. It can be altered later if necessary.

These are suggestions only, which may need to be adapted to individual congregations and situations. However, they reflect the basic components expected in a monthly CTG meeting. When in doubt, check the EFSM notebook, call another EFSM supervisor for ideas and recommendations, or contact the BAML Staff.

Brethren Academy for Ministerial Leadership POLICY OF CITATION AND PLAGIARISM

Plagiarism policy

Integrity is central to life in community. In the Christian academic community, integrity means giving proper credit to people for the ideas and information we receive from them. It also means that the work we submit and represent as our own is really work we ourselves have done. The Church of the Brethren 2008 Annual Conference Ethics in Ministry Paper (2008) Part III Code of Ethics for Ministerial Leaders states:

“I will give credit for all sources quoted or extensively paraphrased in sermons and prepared papers. I will honor all copyrights” (p. 8, Letter M).

Plagiarism is using the work of other people without giving them credit, whether in written assignments, oral reports and sermons. A glaring example of plagiarism would be submitting an entire essay or preaching a sermon written by someone else and claiming it was your own. It is also plagiarism to use, without giving credit, someone else’s ideas or phrases. This definition applies to words and images, to manuscripts, and to ideas gleaned from spoken communication.

The consequences for plagiarism will vary according to the extent of the offense. These may range from rewriting the assignment, non-crediting the assignment, or non-crediting the course. The instructor will report any instance of plagiarism to the student and to those supervising the instructional programs. Students who wish to challenge the charge of plagiarism could contact their district executive and/or the Church of the Brethren Office of Ministry.

Guidelines for Writing Research Papers

The Training in Ministry (TRIM) Notebook – available online at the Brethren Academy for Ministerial Leadership website <https://bethanyseminary.edu/brethren-academy/training-notebooks/> – contains a section on Guidelines for Writing TRIM Research Papers (pp. 51-52). These guidelines were written by Marilyn Lerch in consultation with Dr. Daniel Ulrich, a Bethany Theological Seminary professor, and Craig Gandy, a Brethren Academy instructor.

Additional resources for writing, further examples and appropriate ways to cite, include:

- Core, Deborah. The Seminary Student Writes. St. Louis: Chalice Press, 2000. This very easy to read book outlines practical guidance for beginning students. Choosing and researching a topic; outlining, writing and editing a paper; and proper formats for citation are addressed.

- Vyhmeister, Nancy Jean. Quality Research Papers: for Students of Religion and Theology. Grand Rapids: Zondervan, 2001. This book explores in more depth research (definition, planning, thinking), finding sources, choosing a topic, bibliographies, papers (organizing, writing, formatting), and research (biblical exegesis, descriptive, program development, case study).
- Turabian, Kate L. A Manual for Writers of Research, Theses, and Dissertations: Chicago Style for Students and Researchers. Chicago: University of Chicago Press, 2007. This is the definitive resource for advanced research papers and projects. A Turabian Style: Quick Reference Guide for Students is available online as a downloadable pdf at the Bethany Theological Seminary website.

Program Expectations and Time Parameters

In any given calendar year, a student must complete a minimum of one learning unit or experience to remain in good standing. Each fall a summary report is sent from the Academy office to each participating district for their use to determine student progress in EFSM. If a student fails to make adequate progress, their district may decide to remove a student from the program. This is to be done in consultation with the supervising pastor, the student, and at times the Coordinator of the English-Language Ministry Training Programs of the Brethren Academy.

The EFSM program is designed to be completed in three to five years. In special cases permission to extend a program of study will be granted by the Brethren Academy staff upon request of the student and recommendation of the supervising pastor. Such requests and recommendations will provide an adequate rationale for the extension. Students may remain enrolled in the EFSM program a maximum of ten years without incurring penalty. After ten years, students will begin losing EFSM learning unit credits, beginning with the first year of their enrollment. They will lose one year of credits for each year they remain in the program. To avoid this penalty, a student may take an official Leave of Absence (see page 99).

Leave of Absence

A student may take an official Leave of Absence for up to two calendar years (four academic sessions) if faced with health, family, professional, financial or other concerns that interfere with their studies. A student must apply for a Leave of Absence using the form provided (in “Appendix and Additional Forms” Section VII) or from the Brethren Academy website and follow all aspects of the Leave of Absence policy. Leave time granted may not total more than two calendar years/four academic sessions per EFSM student.

Withdrawal

If a student finds that EFSM is not the appropriate ministry training for themselves and chooses to withdraw, the student must notify their district and report the decision to the Brethren Academy Office.

ORIENTATION and CONGREGATIONAL WORKSHOP PREPARATION

Orientation – All incoming EFSM Ministers-in-Training must attend the TRIM/EFSM New Student Orientation at Bethany Theological Seminary. (Exceptions may be made for congregations with a large number of MITs in the EFSM-Team Track.) During this three day orientation, students will begin two classes which when successfully completed, will fulfill the “Orientation” experience. One Ministry Skills course (topic may vary) will begin at orientation and students will work at their own pace following orientation towards a final due date. The second course “Introduction to Biblical Studies” will begin during orientation and will be an eight-week online course.

After orientation – Much of the work of shaping one’s EFSM program happens after orientation.

1. Make plans for a Congregational Workshop Weekend to be held within two months of orientation. These dates must be made in conversation with the Congregational Training Group and the Brethren Academy
2. Reflect and confer with your supervisor on the shape of the first learning unit. Be ready to propose possible learning objectives, learning experiences, and means of evaluation at CTG meeting during Congregational Weekend Workshop.
3. MIT and LITs meet with the church board or other appropriate group to: discuss how MIT and LITs will relate to existing structures in the congregation. Alert the church board to the upcoming planning process. (Recall your commitment to engaging in a goal-setting process in the covenant of congregational participation in EFSM.)

BETHANY WEEKEND

The purpose of the Bethany weekend is to strengthen the connection of the congregation to the life and ministry of Bethany Theological Seminary. Arrangements made between the MIT and a faculty member, qualified staff, or board members of Bethany will be made to spend a day (usually a Saturday) with the congregation, leading them in a learning session on the topic desired by the congregation and the LIT. Bethany weekends are best planned in the middle of the EFSM program to accommodate the scheduling needs of the faculty member.

It is encouraged to use the Bethany Weekend as an activity of a Learning Unit, although it may exist separate from a Learning Unit if further exploration of a topic is desired.

Steps for planning a Bethany Weekend:

1. MIT will initiate a conversation with the Coordinator of English-Language Programs to discuss the focus of the Learning Unit/Bethany Weekend and consider possible Bethany representatives.
2. Once possibilities are established, the MIT will initiate a conversation with the Bethany representative to discuss hopes for the weekend and to confirm logistics.
3. MIT will notify the Coordinator of English-Language Programs about the finalized logistics (date, time, etc).
4. The majority of the conversation and planning will happen between the MIT and Bethany representative. The Coordinator of English-Language Programs will assist if requested.

2-D

DISTRICT CONFERENCE EXPERIENCE

District Conference is a shorter, more local experience than Annual Conference, but crucial in the way the church functions.

After attending a District Conference, write a 2-3 page reflection paper based on the prompts below. Submit the paper to your Supervising Pastor and the Coordinator of TRIM/EFSM no more than 3 months after the event.

1. Identify the District Conference you attended, dates and location.

5. A major item at District Conference is the district budget. How is the budget prepared and how is it met in a given year?
6. In what way is the District Conference like a family gathering?
7. What biblical and theological principles become evident in District Conference?
8. In what ways do you see your district relating to the larger church through the District Conference?
9. Reflect on the worship services during District Conference.
10. Offer personal reflections and responses to the District Conference you attended.

Reflections must be submitted no later than three months following the event.

2-F

ECUMENICAL, INTERFAITH, OR INTERCULTURAL EXPERIENCE

The purpose of this requirement is to broaden a student's training beyond his or her own ecclesial or cultural world. We need to be able to see our Brethren experience of the church as part of a larger communion of churches linked together in a common mission. Beyond that, each person needs the opportunity to see the fascinating mix of cultures with which Christians share the world.

Ecumenical and Interfaith Events

For the purposes of TRIM, an ecumenical event will be an experience through which the student learns how the Church of the Brethren works together with other Christian bodies in the larger church. An interfaith experience is an experience through which the student learns how Christians relate to people of other religions. Here are examples of events that qualify:

1. A meeting of an interdenominational council of churches, whether worldwide, national, statewide, or local.
2. Participation in the planning and carrying out of a special interfaith gathering at the local or regional level.
3. Participation in the development and implementation of a cooperative, interchurch or inter-religious ministry in one's community (e.g., food pantry, shelter for the homeless, etc.).
4. Spending a day at New Windsor to tour the facilities and learn how churches and religions work together in Church World Service, Interfaith Medical Assistance, and other agencies.
5. Participating in the activity of a local pastors' association (assuming such a group not only gathers for fellowship, but also develops cooperative programs and events).

Intercultural Events

In a similar manner, an intercultural event will be an experience through which the student's perception of life is expanded by exposure to different cultures and values. Some examples of intercultural events include the following:

1. Study in another country, whether for a regular term of study or for a short-term intensive experience.
2. Participation in a study tour of another part of the world and reflection on that experience.
3. Participation in an international work camp and reflection on that experience.
4. Taking part in a seminar or workshop specifically designed to provide participants with cross-cultural enrichment.
5. Participation in a BVS assignment or similar undertaking to familiarize oneself with a different culture, whether in the United States or abroad.

The lists above are suggestive, not restrictive. You may propose other ideas to Coordinator English-Language Programs

After attending completing this experience, write a 2-3 page reflection paper based on the prompts below. Submit the paper to your Supervising Pastor and the Coordinator of TRIM/EFSM no more than 3 months after the event.

1. Describe the nature of the event, including location, structure, and partners involved.
2. What were some assumptions you had going into this experience?
3. How were those assumptions challenged, changed, transformed, or deepened?
4. Describe the positive experiences and outcomes of this project as well as the more challenging ones.
5. In what ways has your faith and ministry training been affected by engaging in this activity?

Reflections must be submitted no later than three months following the event.

INTRODUCTION TO LEARNING UNITS

Learning Units are a combination of independent study units and Brethren Academy courses. Each of these units will include reading, research, journal writing, and related congregational projects and experiences. Students must take at least one, but no more than three, Brethren Academy courses (online, intensives, etc). The remaining learning units will be created and completed in consultation with the CTG and supervising pastor.

Learning Unit Projection Plan - During Orientation, MITs will work with the BAML Staff to begin writing a Learning Unit Project Plan. This plan will be refined and confirmed at the Congregational Workshop Weekend. It will be possible to modify the schedule as the program progresses, if changes are agreed upon by the CTG. Any modifications should be reported to the Coordinator of English-Language Programs.

Learning Unit Contracts - Learning unit contracts shall include the following components:

1. Basic information about the Learning Unit: title, description, projected time period, etc.
2. Learning objectives for MIT: three to six specific results (knowledge and skills) the MIT hopes to achieve through this unit.
3. Learning objectives for LITs and/or congregation: one or two specific results (knowledge and skills) members of the congregation will achieve through this unit.
4. A list of specific learning experiences for the MIT (e.g., leading study groups, writing sermons, visiting people or groups, conducting interviews, reading and reviewing books, attending classes, writing papers, etc.) List in a measurable way whenever possible.
5. Means of evaluation to be used (congregational feedback, review by pastoral supervisor, tests, CTG evaluation). Each unit shall include several journal entries as one of the means of evaluation
6. The MIT's plan for self-assessment of completed unit.
7. The Supervisor's plan for assessment of completed unit (to include evaluative responses of other CTG members).
8. Supervisor's and Academy's goal of certification for credit.

Criteria - Good learning units will include:

1. Specific objectives. An objective should be stated so that it can be measured in some way. For example, “I will preach two sermons each quarter.” “I will incorporate three scholarly views in each sermon.”
2. Realistic objectives. Learning units should be ambitious but realistic. Don't plan more than there is time to do it in.
3. Congregational involvement. At least one of your objectives and one of your learning experiences for each unit in the congregation should involve the congregation in some way.
4. Congregational evaluation. At least one of the means of evaluation of a unit should include feedback from the congregation.
5. Local relevance. Plan learning experiences that relate to the needs of your congregation or community.
6. Balanced activities. Learning experiences for a given unit should include a balance of reading, doing, and reflecting. It is also recommended to not take on more than one Learning Unit at a time.
7. Flexibility. Remain open to modifying your plans when unanticipated circumstances arise.

Timeline for Learning Unit Contracts – Learning unit contracts shall be developed in the following way and sequence:

- Two months in advance of the beginning of the learning unit, the MIT will discuss possibilities for a learning unit with CTG and receive approval to proceed.
- Six weeks in advance, the MIT will prepare a first draft of a learning unit contract and share it with the supervisor.
- One month in advance, the MIT will revise the contract in light of the supervisor's recommendations and present the revised draft to the CTG.
- The CTG will approve the contract, if suitable, and submit a copy to the BAML Staff.
- The BAML Staff will approve the contract or ask for additional modifications. If those are met, they will approve the contract.

Assessment

1. The MIT and the supervisor will inform the CTG when the learning unit has been successfully completed.
2. The MIT will present an overview of the Learning Unit to the CTG. The CTG concurs that the unit is successfully completed.
3. The Supervising Pastor will submit the Supervising Pastor's Evaluation of Learning Unit form to the Brethren Academy.
4. The MIT will submit the MIT Evaluation of Learning Unit form to the Brethren Academy
5. The BAML Staff will certify the learning unit for credit and make a notation of this on the MIT's transcript. The learning unit may be returned to the supervisor if the Coordinator of English-Language Programs feels that the contract has not been fulfilled.

Resources for Study

Reading lists for learning units may be developed by consulting Brethren Academy suggested readings lists, recommendations by supervising pastor, books available through Brethren Press (www.brethrepress.com), or from local university and/or seminary libraries.

SUPERVISING PASTORS AND DISTRICT REPRESENTATIVES

SUPERVISING PASTOR

The pastoral supervisor plays an indispensable role in EFSM. Because EFSM does not have a ready-made curriculum but rather encourages each training group to develop its own learning agenda, it is important to have a skilled person on location to guide that process. The supervisor is that person. And because EFSM is concerned not only with academic content but also with preparing trainees for ministry, it is important to have an experienced practitioner to guide that preparation. Also, EFSM is a program for congregations who care about quality relationships, so it is important to have a supervisor who cares for the life of the people in a congregation. Coach, friend, colleague, consultant, resource person—all are applicable to the person we call the “supervisor.”

Qualifications for Supervisors

1. A minimum of an MDiv level of theological training is preferable.
2. Pastoral experience in the area of focus for the MIT: small congregation, specialized ministry, team ministry, etc. Experience can be in the Church of the Brethren or another Christian communion.
3. Desire and ability to work constructively in a supervisory relationship that encourages others to grow and develop.
4. Commitment to the goals and basic vision of shared ministry as delineated in the program.
5. Freedom to devote the time required (8-10 hours per month) to the responsibilities outlined above over a three-year period, as approved by the supervisor's employing congregation where necessary.

Training for Supervisors

Each person named as a supervisor is expected to take part in the Congregational Workshop Weekend for EFSM, including the district representative, the BAML Staff, the supervising pastor, the Congregational Training Group, and all others involved in the joint program. At this event, supervisors will become familiar with the learning process of EFSM, meet and begin working with their trainees, and explore the meaning and character of supervision in this program.

The district in which the EFSM congregation resides will arrange for the services of an EFSM pastoral supervisor. Some districts may choose to provide a small stipend for supervisors as well as cover travel expense. Other districts may choose to negotiate with the pastoral supervisors to serve on a volunteer basis but reimburse all or part of their travel expenses.

Responsibilities of Supervisors

1. Assist the MIT in developing learning unit proposals to bring to the CTG for feedback, modification and approval.
2. Negotiate and follow through with MIT on assignments, schedules, and test and review procedures for learning units, as well as prepare a supervisory assessment of each completed learning unit.
3. Consult with the MIT once a month to evaluate progress on learning units, discuss pastoral experiences of MIT, and provide feedback and support. If the MIT and supervisor live more than 25 miles from each other, consultations may be by telephone or Skype every other month.
4. Prepare the agenda for and chair the monthly meetings of the CTG during the first year of the program, and assist the MIT in assuming these responsibilities for the remainder of the program.
5. Submit to the BAML Staff once a year a report on the progress of the MIT and the work of the CTG. A report form is provided for this purpose. Normally this report should be submitted during the week following a CTG meeting.
6. Notify the BAML Staff in the event of any unusual problems or circumstances related to the program.
7. Take part in special congregational events related to the program, including the two-day congregational workshop at the beginning of the program, the annual congregational business meeting at which the CTG's report and recommendations are received, and the celebration of the completion of the program at the end of the third year.
8. Serve as a consultant to the MIT and his or her congregation as they work through a congregational self-study and the process of goal-setting.
9. Communicate with the District Representative the progress and needs of the MIT and the CTG, thereby allowing the District Representative to communicate with the District Executive, Ministry Commission, etc.

Possible Patterns of Organization

Below are some examples of possible patterns of organization. Congregations develop organizational structures in varying ways depending on their size and needs. Structures function best when they flow out of the congregation's clearly discerned vision and mission objectives, expressed through the efforts of ministry teams called for those purposes. Each congregation that participates in the EFSM program is urged to engage in a process of discerning the vision, objectives, and goals that God has given them and to structure their congregational life accordingly.

TIPS for JOURNAL WRITING

General Ideas

The following ideas simply are intended to spark some creativity in you. Feel free to borrow anything you find helpful: use it, change it, discard it.

- Try writing your journal in the form of a letter; a letter to a friend, a parent, to yourself, to God ...
- Write it as a meditation, an image: for example, “the Word became Flesh”
- If you normally write with white paper and blue ink, try colored paper and colored ink. Write on the back of a wrapping paper that catches your attention.
- Sketch something.
- Keep a book or file of quotations. Why did you keep this one?
- find a quotation that appeals to you (from a book, the newspaper, the Bible). Break down the structure of the sentence or paragraph and make it into a poem
- Take any kind of prose and make it into a poem, or vice versa
- Begin to listen to all these things. Go over what you have written after six months. What seems to be continuous themes?
- Don't feel you have to write for hours at a time. Be content with little steps. Set limits. Write for 15 minutes. If you are struggling or feel pressured to write, write one sentence and stop.

Some Notes on Journal-Keeping

- If you find you cannot keep up with all of your thoughts (and you want to or need to get them all down), use a tape recorder, or,
- Explore all medium of getting your thoughts down: handwriting, typing, voice-to-text/audio recording, smart phone journaling applications, video recording
- Reflect on someone else's journal or writing. Simply state, for instance, "I react to Augustine's Confessions in this way ..."
- Listen to some music. How does it make you feel?
- Use music to help set limits for yourself. For example, write as long as it takes to listen to a favorite piece of music. When it is over, your time for writing is over.
- Don't expect too much, especially if you are a beginning. In some ways, beginning now is like learning a musical instrument at our age. We quickly become impatient because we would like to be proficient and feel we ought to be able to write elevated prose or poetry, or earthy, honest stuff. If you are beginning, it is a bit like learning to talk or, to mix metaphors, it is like learning to use a new tool without knowing what you are going to build
- Affirm your sense of frustration
- Write what you are thinking about in the form of a liturgy, a prayer, a psalm
- Be aware of the time it takes to develop this kind of self-reflection. It is as if a seed is planted within and you must carefully attend to it, water it, nurture it, and encourage it. It will grow.

These tips come from a compilation of the works from the late priest and writer Henri Nouwen. For a list of Nouwen's written works, visit:

Leave of Absence Policy and Request Form

In order to continue in active status, students in a certificate-level ministry training program must complete at least one course or one learning unit each year. If they are unable to take courses or complete learning units during a given year they must consult with their district TRIM coordinator or EFSM supervising pastor or SeBAH cohort coordinator, and the BAML program coordinator and request a leave of absence. The BAML may at its discretion, grant leave of absence status for professional or personal reasons. Leave of absence status includes the following arrangements, privileges, and fees:

1. Will continue to receive communications from the BAML office, such as newsletters, course brochures and other announcements via email
2. District fees and routine BAML processes apply during the LoA year. Student and Congregational fees will be waived during the LoA year.

If a student does not register, does not request a leave of absence, and does not withdraw, he or she will be contacted by the coordinator of his/her ministry training program during the first quarter of the new calendar year.
